Did You Know?

We have a Knowledge Base area for frequently asked questions. If you can't find an answer to your question here, you are welcome to send a support ticket for help.

You can check the availability of a domain with our domain checker! If available, rates and other options are listed for purchase.

We now have graphic design available for you! If you are a new business looking for an enticing logo, or wanting to update or create a new logo - we have the capabilities!

Affiliate Program

It's actually quite simple! Refer anyone to our services. If they sign up for a service, you get a percentage! Turn in your earnings for credit towards your next invoice! See our site for more details.

Design Tips & Tricks

When taking digital pictures with your camera for your web design images, keep in mind:

Image DPI is not relevant for screen images, since DPI is used only for setting the print sizes of the image: an image of 600x400 pixels with 200 DPI will have the same display and file size than a 600x400 100 DPI image, but the first one will be half the size when printed, although with higher definition (since you put 200 dots in an inch of paper for the first image and 100 for the second) .

It is important for your file size to be at the lowest possible in order to keep your design files down and to minimize your hosting space being used.

Contest of the Month!

Would you like to participate in our Contest of the Month?!

March kicks off a new approach to web design and marketing! For this particular contest, it is a contest within a contest, so to speak. ☺

Requirements: Come up with a list of 3 possible future contest ideas! Submission with best 2 out of 3 answers wins! Winner receives a FREE T-Shirt containing their business or personal logo!

Submissions due by
3/31/09 @ 11:59pm EST

Send Submissions to:
contest@juleswebdesigns.com

Please send ideas only, do not send ideas for contest prizes.

Jules Web Hosting & Designs reserves the right to use and distribute submissions received in any Contest of the Month. You do not need to be a current
